

VIOLENCE AGAINST WOMEN REAUTHORIZATION ACT (VAWA) OF 2019 (H.R. 1585)

BACKGROUND

- Gender-based violence (domestic violence, sexual assault, stalking, and dating violence) occurs across all races, ages, classes, and ethnic backgrounds, but at disparate rates and with disproportionate impacts for women of color and other marginalized communities.
 - One in three women will experience domestic violence, and more than three women are murdered by their partners each day.ⁱ
 - One in five women has been raped in their lifetime.ⁱⁱ
 - One in six (19.3 million) women have been stalked by an intimate partner during their lifetime to the point that they felt very fearful or believed that they would be harmed or killed.ⁱⁱⁱ
 - Fifty-four percent of multi-racial women, 46 percent of American Indian / Alaska Native women, 43 percent of Black women, 37 percent of Latinas, 36 percent of White women, and 20 percent of Asian or Pacific Islander women have been the victim of intimate partner violence.^{iv}
- Between 21 and 60 percent of survivors of intimate partner violence lose their jobs for reasons related to their abuse.^v
- Approximately 50 percent of women who are homeless report that intimate partner violence was the immediate cause of their homelessness, and over 92 percent of homeless mothers have experienced severe physical and/or sexual abuse during their lifetime.^{vi}
- Negative physical, mental, sexual, and reproductive health issues have been linked to gender-based violence. Survivors are also at a higher risk for developing addictions to tobacco, alcohol, or drugs.^{vii}

WHAT THE VIOLENCE AGAINST WOMEN REAUTHORIZATION ACT OF 2019 (VAWA) DOES

- Enhances judicial and law enforcement tools, through reauthorization of the STOP grants and expansion of permissible use of the grants;
- Improves services for victims of domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, and stalking;
- Provides services, protection, and justice for young victims of violence;
- Reauthorizes and updates the SMART Prevention Program to reduce dating violence, help children exposed to violence, and engage men in preventing violence;
- Expands grants under the Public Health Service Act to support implementation of training programs to improve the capacity of early childhood programs to address domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, and stalking among the families they serve;
- Preserves and expands housing protections for survivors;

- Provides economic security assistance for survivors by reauthorizing the National Resource Center on Workplace Responses, protecting employees from being fired because they are survivors of sexual assault or domestic violence, and protecting survivors' eligibility to receive Unemployment Insurance;
- Helps prevent “intimate partner” homicides;
- Helps protect Native American women, by including provisions to improve the response to missing and murdered Native American women, improving tribal access to federal crime information databases, and reaffirming tribal criminal jurisdiction over non-Indian perpetrators of violence and assault;

PLEASE SUPPORT REAUTHORIZATION OF THE VIOLENCE AGAINST WOMEN ACT

The Violence Against Women Act (VAWA) has been instrumental in preventing and responding to gender-based violence. Since its initial authorization in 1994, and as a result of improvements established during the 2000, 2005, and 2013 reauthorization processes, VAWA has:

- Directly addressed childcare, affordable housing, community support, transportation, and other barriers that survivors of gender-based violence face in accessing safety and resources.
- Ensured that survivors of gender-based violence from underserved communities have gained access to the same lifesaving and life-changing assistance and resources as other survivors.
- Significantly improved criminal justice and civil court responses to gender-based violence, which has led to an increase in reporting and criminal justice involvement by survivors and an increase in survivors seeking protective orders.
- Greatly strengthened federal-state partnerships to most effectively and efficiently combat gender-based violence, including provision of training and technical assistance, while giving states and jurisdictions the flexibility to respond to their own unique needs.

Please support survivors of gender-based violence by supporting the Violence Against Women Reauthorization Act of 2019 (H.R.1585).
